

Department of Political and Social Sciences
Institute for Media and Communication Studies Communication Theory and Media Effects

research assistant (postdoc)
with 85% part-time job
limited to 5 years
Entgeltgruppe 13 TV-L FU reference code: Kommtheo-Postdoc-2018

At the Division of Communication Theory and Media Effects the main emphasis of research and teaching lies on political communication, media content and media effects as well as on the study of (transnational) media debates in public sphere. In our projects we are keen to look beyond our own country by applying an international comparative perspective to communication research.

Job description:

Academic research and teaching (BA and MA program) in the fields of communication theory, media effects research and public spheres. Collaboration in proposing, planning, organizing and conducting externally funded research projects. Personal academic qualification and habilitation will be supported.

Job requirements:

Degree of university education (Magister, Diploma or Master's degree) and PhD in Media and Communication Studies, Political Science, Sociology or another social science;

Desirable qualifications:

Teaching experience in an academic environment. Willingness to teach in English. Excellent degree of university education, deep knowledge of quantitative and qualitative methods of empirical social research especially in digital methods and eSocial Science. High motivation to work in a team.

All applications quoting the reference code should be addressed no later than February 5th; 2018 as an email to Prof. Dr. Barbara Pfetsch: kommtheorie@zedat.fu-berlin.de or by mail to:

Freie Universität Berlin
Fachbereich Politik- und Sozialwissenschaften
Institut für Publizistik- und Kommunikationswissenschaft
Frau Prof. Dr. Barbara Pfetsch
Garystr. 55
14195 Berlin (Dahlem)