INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITY IN CALIFORNIA

Internship opportunities are available for senior FUB students to do an internship in a small multicultural marketing agency in Berkeley, California.

The changing cultural and demographic changes in the United States and Europe, make multicultural marketing specialization, a career much thought after by all firms.

Jungle Communications (www.webjungle.com) serves B2C (business to consumers), B2B (business to business) as well as B2G (business to government) clients. The nature of our projects varied from simple translations in many languages, to full-fledge marketing and advertising campaigns.

We are looking interns interested in the field and with studies in marketing, management and operations management, as well as political science and journalism.

Basic requirement of the internship is excellent command of the English language, both spoken and written, as well as great initiative and desire to learn the many facets of running a small agency.

Our normal work tasks includes online research, developing marketing materials, managing projects, finding and retaining vendors and suppliers, office and documentation management, including contracts, corporate records, bid preparation, business meeting and event participation, etc.

Students are expected to be able to handle various tasks, and work well independently and as part of a larger team.

The selected interns would be senior students, with a mature attitude and demeanor, and eagerness to learn.

Preferred internship duration is from 6 months, to one year.

Internship stipend is $1,000 a month

Normal business hours are 9:00 am to 5:30 pm, with one-hour lunch, Monday thru Friday

All legal American labor holidays applied.

If you are interested in this internship, please provide curriculum vitae, list of as area of study. Also, please free to contact us with any question you may have.
