

SALLY KHALIFA ISAAC, PH.D.
AMAL HAMADA, PH.D.
EGYPT'S REVOLUTION: THREE YEARS AFTER
JANUARY 25, 2011

December 11, 2013 ■ 12.30 – 2 p.m. ■ Room A
Garystr. 55, 14195 Berlin (U Thielplatz)

Egypt's internal developments in the summer of 2013 have raised much controversy domestically and internationally about the future of the revolutionary path in the country. A coup, a corrective revolution or a new wave of the Egyptian revolution are highly debated descriptions of these developments in both academic and policy circles. The presenters are going to discuss the case of Egypt's developments from two complementing angles, democracy and security.

Sally Khalifa Isaac, Ph.D. is an Associate Professor of Political Science (IR) at Cairo University.

Amal Hamada, Ph.D. is an Assistant Professor of Political Science (Comparative Politics) at Cairo University.

Chair: Prof. Dr. Cilja Harders (Head of the Center for Middle Eastern and North African Politics, FU Berlin)