

DOCTORATE AND GRADUATE SUPERVISION

First supervision doctorate students:

1. 2015–2020 Edge of Tolerance: Politics of Emotion of Muslim Queer in Indonesia; Ferdiansyah Thajib (completed)
2. 2017– Perception and representation of outer space in Thailand: An anthropological inquiry into how sensation and imagination shape our understanding of other worlds and beings; Lauren Reid
3. 2017– The Rebuilding of Trust: An anthropological study of social capital amongst refugees living in Berlin; Angela Robin Murtha
4. 2018– Das koloniale Erbe Mauritius: Prozesse der Be- und Entmündigung der Kreolischen Community; Stephanie Salzhuber
5. 2018– Umgang mit persönlichen Krisen unter kürzlich entlassenen PatientInnen einer psychiatrischen Fachklinik; Svenja Thornau
6. 2019 Images of a Contested Space: The Case of the 2009 L'Aquila Earthquake and its Aftermath; Raffaele Gallo
7. 2018– Methoden Kinderzentrierter Forschungen: Zwischen Kunst und Wissenschaft; Annett Hofmann
8. 2019– Learning and becoming a person: A collaborative ethnography of emotions among young girls in Bali; Irina Savu-Cristea
9. 2019– Affective Minds: Understanding Emotional Dimensions of Schizophrenia in Indonesia; Florin Cristea
10. 2019– Maneuvrieren in akademischen Kulturen: Emotionsarbeit von Ethnolog*innen in der Greedy Institution; Julia Baumann
11. 2019– Home Making and Belonging in Return Migration: Korean Chinese as International Labors; Jingyi Li
11. 2021– What do migrant divorcees in Germany cry about when they cry their divorce? A sensitive look at post-divorce loss(es) and disenfranchised grief; Sara El-Dayekh
13. 2021– Women's Organizations' Navigating Role in Java, Indonesia: An Investigation into the Socio-Cultural Aspects of Emotional Labor and Gender-based Violence; Mona Behnke

In addition to the listed first supervisions of doctorate students, I co-advise(d) 8 doctorate theses as second supervisor and hosted 6 international postdoctoral scholars via scholarships (US, Czech Republic, UAE, Israel, Kenya, Georgia). I have tutored and supervised 88 BA and MA theses in first supervision over the last 5 years, and advised another 49 students as second supervisor.