Overview

The PhD group of the Environmental Policy Research Centre (FFU) at Freie Universität Berlin in cooperation with the PhD-network for Sustainable Economics is organizing a Sustainable Environmental Politics and Economy Conference. The conference aims at bringing together young researchers from various disciplines to present and discuss their research related to sustainability, environment, climate and energy policies, politics, economy and governance. The conference will provide a supportive forum for PhD researchers to present papers related to their dissertations and other research projects. The conference will be divided into broad thematic areas to allow for focused discussion and networking across universities and disciplines.

The PhD Conference will be held in connection with the Annual meeting of the University Day for Eco-Social Markets and Sustainability (www.hochschultage.org), which are run by the Club of Rome, the PhD-Network for sustainable economy (DNW), the Global Marshall Plan Foundation, the FAW/n Ulm and the Green Budget Germany (FÖS).
