

Edward Said Lecture Series

40 years after 'Orientalism' – Configurations of Knowledge/Power today

November 1

Anya Topolski

“The dangerous discourse of the ‘Judeo-Christian’ myth:
Masking the race-religion constellation in Europe”

November 15

Luis Manuel Hernández Aguilar

“Is Orientalism racist or is Racism orientalist?”

November 22

María do Mar Castro Varela & Nikita Dhawan

“Gender, Orientalism and Contrapunctual Solidarity”

November 29

Wendy Shaw

“From Disenchantment to Re-enchantment:
Recovering from the Erasure of Orientalism”

December 6

Achim Rohde

“Asians in Europe. Reading German-Jewish History through a Post-Colonial Lens”

December 20

Razak Khan

“Iqbal, Scholem and German Orientalism”

January 10

Frank Peter

“Crisis and critique of orientalism: The politics of contemporary French scholarship on Islam in the Republic”

January 17

Islam Dayeh

“Said’s Return to Philology”

January 24

Kai Kresse

“Africanism, and beyond?”

January 31

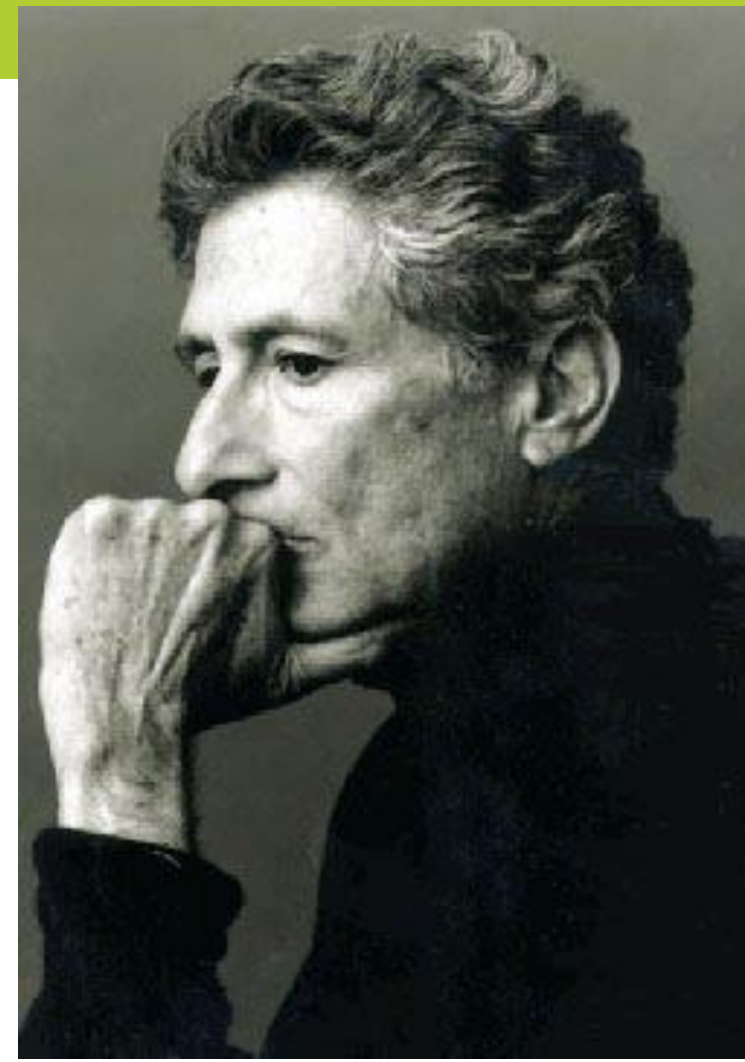

Zubair Ahmad

“(Has there ever been) A configuration of power called ‘German Orientalism’?”

February 7

Iman Attia

“Zum Verhältnis von Orientalismus und antimuslimischem Rassismus”

Time: 16.00-18.00 p.m. (c.t.)

Place: Freie Universität Berlin, „Holzlaube“, Seminarraum 2.2059, Fabeckstraße. 23-25, 14195 Berlin

Convenors: Prof. Schirin Amir-Moazami and Zubair Ahmad

Contact: islamwissenschaft@fu-berlin.de